

“William Bleak write songs as if recalling the most traumatic night of their lives and all of the bad decisions that got them there. “ -alt77

William Bleak is a Post Punk/Cold Wave Band from Berlin, Germany, combining pumping electronic rhythms with manic guitars and guttural baselines into a grotesque yet celebratory sound.

Once a classic Post Punk three piece which played dreamy, melancholic Rock inspired by shoegaze and half remembered memories, they have since rapidly evolved, shedding excess fat (and instruments) in favour of a bold, cold and heavy sound more directly inspired by the harsh winters of Berlin.

Their upcoming single “Crows and Ravens”, to be released on Valentine’s Day 2024, serves as the perfect fusion of Dance Punk Sensibilities and Cold Wave Despair, a jarring synthesis lethal to the senses.
